Hundreds turn out for first Get Skiing Show at The Pantiles

The first ever Get Skiing Show held at The Pantiles in Tunbridge Wells on Sunday 23rd November was attended by more than 200 local ski lovers who snapped up great deals on skiing holidays and heard from the UK's former #1 downhill racer, Graham Bell.

Event organiser and founder of the new Get Skiing centre, Gary Wardrope, said the show was a definite success: "We were delighted with the turn out and people were genuinely interested to learn about new destinations."

The Get Skiing Show was held in The Corn Exchange from 1-4pm and gave guests the opportunity to talk face to face with people offering ski holidays and the latest equipment and apparel. Gary Wardrope and Frank Baldwin, the editor of Skier & Snowboarder magazine, interviewed Graham Bell in the afternoon who shared some of his stories and insights into skiing.

"It was encouraging to see such a high interest in skiing, even on a wet Sunday afternoon," said Frank Baldwin. It was also great to have the chance to chat with people in such a relaxed and lovely venue."
