The Pantiles in Tunbridge Wells is running a series of indoor craft markets commencing this month, in the Corn Exchange at The Pantiles. The craft markets will offer bespoke creations for shoppers searching for something extra special. There will also be a collectables fair in the Corn Exchange from 11am – 4pm on Sunday 15th February, offering a range of collectables and quality second hand books.

Throughout January, February and March, local craft enthusiasts will offer a selection of local landscape prints, stunning jewellery, striking wildlife photography and handmade soaps. This is just a taste of what's available – shoppers are invited to come along and find something different, and The Corn Exchange's warm ambience is the perfect setting for a relaxed Sunday outing. The markets will run from 11am – 4pm on Sunday 25th January, Sunday 22nd February and Sunday 22nd March.

At the collectables fair there will be an assortment of sought-after items such as kitchenware from the 1950's and 1960's. Many quality second hand books will also be on offer, with literature on many subjects such as the military, cinema and railways.

In keeping with the craft theme, craft demonstrator and designer Paul Church, will be at The Pantiles on Saturday 24th January and Saturday 28th February. Paul will give a free craft demonstration at The Pantiles Books and Papertole between 10am and 4pm.

The Pantiles team are on the lookout for anyone with an imaginative flair for crafts who would like to take out a stall at the indoor craft market.
