Exclusive new homeware store coming to The Pantiles

The Pantiles welcomes the arrival of Wild Asparagus to its elegant shopping parade in Tunbridge Wells. This boutique store is unique to The Pantiles and sells a beautiful range of household furniture and decorative accessories that will stand out in anybody's home. Wild Asparagus also sells paintings and a variety of luxurious fabrics to add a touch of colour and excitement to your home. To help you personalise your own décor the store offers a selection of buttons and craft materials to help you create your dream look.

Wild Asparagus stocks one-of-a-kind French vintage chandeliers, which have been personally chosen by the store and stripped down to create something truly eye-catching. These stunning chandeliers are hand crafted so you won't find them anywhere else, prices ranging from £750 to £1,000.

Shop owners Theresa and Faye Spreckley have a passion for creativity. Wild Asparagus is their latest venture and they knew The Pantiles was the perfect location,

"The Pantiles is the perfect area, it has a touristy feel. We visited many times over the summer and felt it was always so busy and vibrant. We are really pleased with the location as it has that Covent Garden kind of feel. It's just lovely here with a great atmosphere and the setting is beautiful."

Wild Asparagus could have that extra special Christmas present that's perfect for someone who appreciates distinctive homeware.
